THE CLOSER

 "Finish Rich" author David Bach was so taken by his living experience at the Solaire, a LEED-certified green rental building in Battery Park City, he wrote a book about it. "Go Green, Live Rich: 50 Simple Ways to Save the Earth (and Get Rich Trying)" costs $10.46 on Amazon or $14.95 in local bookstores.

Bach's book explores how you can be more green and healthy, and save money doing it. The Solaire, the first LEED-certified Gold residential high-rise in North America, was developed by the Albanese Organization. If you want to be inspired by green living, homes at the Visionaire, the company's newest project, are on the market starting at $830,000 for one-bedrooms.
